

Use and

...again...and again
...and again...

The EPA lists REUSE and REDUCE as their preferred strategies for waste management. Customers prefer reusable takeout packaging over recyclable and biodegradable options.

Made of the same material as many food storage containers sold on supermarket and department store shelves, reusable polypropylene take-out containers are microwave-safe, dishwasher-safe, and can last for months or years in the home. After which, the containers can be collected and recycled into new products.

For more information on the benefits of reusable takeout packaging and more, go to www.reusecontainers.com

Have you reused a takeout container today?

13515 Barrett Parkway Drive • St. Louis, Missouri 63021 • 800.467.3900 • 314.822.7800 • fax: 314.822.7078
Anchor products are BPA-free.
www.anchorpackaging.com